

HARE

By Zoe Greaves

Illustrated by Leslie Sadleir

*"The way-beater
The fast-traveller
Quiet now. You must not make a sound.
Quieter still. Can you hear a hare's breath?"*

*Lose yourself in the enchanted world of the Hare.
Follow him on his journey and enjoy reciting the ancient poacher's names for him.*

Zoe Greaves trained as an actress but her great love of books compelled her to become a bookseller and writer. Her lyrical text perfectly complements Leslie's detailed artwork.

Leslie Sadleir qualified as a graphic designer and worked in publishing. She rediscovered her love of illustration when she began to collaborate with her daughter Zoe.

"A magical book about a magical creature and beautifully illustrated too."

Michael Morpurgo

"A lyrical celebration of the natural history and mythology of the hare."

The Bookseller

Hare opens a window onto the natural world for young and old. A perfect introduction to the joys and mysteries of the countryside or an enticement to "re-wild" and reconnect to nature, Hare includes a section of legends and facts associated with this most enigmatic creature.
